AFTER splitting from KPMG three years ago, McGrathNicol has gone from strength to strength in Canberra. McGrathNicol is an independent advisory firm specialising in corporate advisory, forensic, transaction services and corporate recovery, with offices in every major capital city. The Canberra office specialises in advising government clients and private sector organisations working with Commonwealth, state and territory governments. These clients include: Department of Defence, Department of Veterans' Affairs, Department of Employment and Workplace Relations, Department of Communications, Information Technology and the Arts, Department of the Environment and Heritage, and ActewAGL. "We are extremely keen to attract and retain new staff, especially graduates and senior professionals from accounting and finance fields.

We offer potential staff the opportunity to have a flexible work environment and encourage performance by sharing in the business and financial success of the firm," McGrathNicol Canberra partner Stephen Welch said. In addition to this, McGrathNicol was ranked by Business Review Weekly as being in the top five fastest growing Australian accounting firms. "It's great to see the team's expertise is being sought in projects across Australia and, more recently, on international assignments, working with our international affiliate Alvarez and Marsal. "We have the relationships and the capacity to grow significantly, and it's our aim to see the Canberra office double during the next two years," Mr Welch said.
