Selina has more than 10 years experience as a restructuring, turnaround and financial advisory specialist. She has worked across all levels of Government, private sector companies, listed groups and legal advisors to help improve operational and financial performance, mitigate risks and manage periods of organisational change.

Recent engagements include the completion of independent reviews for several Government departments and small-to-medium enterprises in the construction, manufacturing and agribusiness sectors.

Selina has also worked on several formal insolvency engagements including the management of operations and sale of Cubbie Station, Australia's largest irrigated cotton farming operation and CDP Waste2Energy, a start-up technology group.

Engagement Experience

- Queensland Health: Managed engagements by Queensland Health to undertake comprehensive, independent service agreement risk management and compliance audits of Indigenous health centres across Queensland including an assessment of governance practices.
- Trade and Investment Queensland: Managed an independent forensic review of financial controls and governance practices for TIQ's head office as these related to its Korean trade office. A subsequent engagement included the management of a forensic review of all 12 international trade offices to identify possible fraud and governance risks in each international office.
- Department of Transport and Main Roads Queensland: Project management for the review of the Next Generation Contracts Strategy which included seeking feedback from existing ferry operations on community engagement initiatives and a critical operations review of the ferry contracts strategy, revenue protection, and current and forward-looking analysis of the ferry services market across Greater Queensland.
- Queensland Government: Conducted an independent economic assessment in respect of a select group of Great Barrier Reef islands of whether existing or new support services can be utilised to increase tourism opportunities.
- Queensland Health: Managed an engagement by Queensland Health to undertake a comprehensive, independent service agreement risk management and compliance audit of an Indigenous health centre including an assessment of governance practices and a cyber resilience assessment.
