Board Roles

- Non-Executive Director, Boart Longyear

Jason has more than two decades of experience working with clients to help improve operational and financial performance.

He specialises in operational efficiency, independent business reviews, risk management, forecasting and modelling, cash and working capital management and corporate streamlining. Jason understands the opportunities and risks boards and management teams are faced with.

Jason has managed teams on a wide range of cash management assignments within Australia, Middle East, United Kingdom, the Americas, Asia and throughout Europe. High profile clients include Fairfax, Worley Parsons, Broadspectrum and Leighton.

As an expert in his field, Jason established the McGrathNicol Cash and Working Capital Centre of Excellence which focusses on helping clients increase cash flow by implementing practical and effective procedures to forecast, track, save and generate cash.

Jason also has experience in the restructuring industry having undertaken a number of business, forecast and strategy reviews on behalf of individual lenders and lender syndicates. Jason's sector expertise includes construction and engineering, retail, mining services and infrastructure. He currently sits on the board of the ASX-listed mineral exploration company, Boart Longyear.
